Dear Ms. Doyle

Re: Full block letter format (optional)

This letter is typed in the full-block style which is the most modern of the preferred Canadian styles. You might want to use this setup with open punctuation (no end punctuation like this example), or with mixed punctuation (colon after salutation, comma after complimentary close). Do not mix both punctuation styles though.

In this style, all text is left-justified with no indentations. Because every line begins at the left margin, this style is fastest to type. The asymmetrical appearance is not unpleasing to the eye.

Note that one line space separates paragraphs. Other spacing is determined so as to achieve vertical centering.

If you use this style for a letter of application, you may place your address under the complimentary close instead of at the top just above the date.

I am sure you will find full block an appropriate style for your letter-writing assignments.

Sincerely

Joe Benge
